FY2014 TECHNOLOGY IMPROVEMENTS

Currently, Register of Wills maintains four different systems for document viewing; microfilm, microfiche, AppXtender, and File and Serve Express. The first two are increasingly volatile and subject to quality depletion. We have developed a plan to complete the conversion, thus creating only two document viewing systems. To increase public accessibility and to maintain the integrity of filed documents, Register of Wills requires the ability to continue to burn selected files to CD for uploading to the current electronic imaging program. In FY 2010 we started the project to convert ALL microfilm files to scanned images. I.S. Technology Fund and Deeds Technology Fund funded (approx. $40,000) the software to export images to AppXtender. This project has not yet been completed. The remaining balance of 109,250 estate files to be converted will cost approximately $160,000.

*Microfiche: there are 74,500 estate files to be converted to CD. This process does not need the software to retrieve images similar to AppXtender. The vendor, DMI, already has the software to carry out the conversion. The cost for converting 74,500 to CDs, indexing and importing images to AppXtender is $146,055 per written estimate from the vendor.

*Microfilm: there are 115 reels of estate images to be converted to CD., which approximates to 35,000 estate files. To continue and complete the imaging process which began in 2010, the cost for converting microfilm reels is approximately $13,000.

*Lexis Nexis: to convert older estate images to new electronic filing medium in order to keep full record of estate files in one place. At present, the cost for this is unknown.
