REPORT OF GENERAL MANAGER

Rich Hall, General Manager of the Department, provided an overview of recent legislative activity on historic preservation in the County that will be scheduled for Planning Board hearings in coming months. There are several historic preservation ordinances in the works. A draft ordinance having to do with subdivision plans and historic properties is on the agenda for the next hearing. A comprehensive historic preservation ordinance proposing changes to three sections of the County Code - property maintenance, building, and the UDC - was introduced at Council last week. Historic preservation issues were the focus of an online Department forum last week, which had a guest speaker on the topic. About 80 people participated. The Department is working to make audio recordings of meetings, such as the online forum, available on the County website. File size is a problem, which the County IT office is working to address. In the meantime, board members should contact the Department to listen to audio recordings.

After reminding the Board that the Heavy Industrial zoning ordinance was put on pause in order to gather more public input, he announced a Zoom meeting on the ordinance that will take place on June 24th. The meeting is an opportunity for the Department to hear from the public on what uses should be considered special uses, limited uses, or have other use standards applied in the HI district.

The countywide Comprehensive Plan update is scheduled to be launched next week. This is an update of the 2012 plan, as required by the State every 10 years. Due to COVID-19, ideas for public engagement in the planning process have been retooled, but robust engagement is expected through online meeting platforms, social media, and the like. Although engagement will be done in a different way, the Department is excited to get public input on a wide range of issues regarding the future of New Castle County as part of the Plan update.

The County, along with its consultants and partners including WILMAPCO and DelDOT, recently began the Churchman's Crossing transportation study. This is a job-rich area with several large employers that was identified for the study as a step toward designating it as the first Transportation Improvement District (TID) enabled through legislation passed in the spring of 2019. There are several opportunities in the study area related to transportation-specific goals, such as better utilizing the rail station at Delaware Park, as well as for creating community connections and more vibrant, livable places. The Department will share public meeting dates with the Board when these are scheduled.

REPORT OF CHAIRPERSON

Karen Peterson, Board Chairperson, asked if there were plans for the Board to resume in-person meetings. Mr. Hall replied that recent discussions with the Executive Office had centered on increasing staffing levels, not on allowing visitors to enter the building again. He is not aware of any plans for Council meetings to resume in-person. The Planning Board will be notified if the Department does hear of any policy changes regarding board meetings.
