

Robert Ralston, Esquire

Robert W. Ralston is a long term New Castle County resident who practices law in Wilmington. Mr. Ralston graduated from Brandywine High School in 1965. He received his B.A. in Political Science from Ursinus College in Collegeville, Pennsylvania in 1969. Mr. Ralston graduated Magna Cum Laude from the Dickinson School of Law in Carlisle, Pennsylvania in 1972. He has practiced law in Wilmington since then. He first worked at the predecessor to Prickett, Jones & Elliott where he was a partner. Mr. Ralston opened his own office in 1987 where he still practices. Mr. Ralston's practice concentrates on the area of workers' compensation where he represents the interests of employers and insurance carriers. He is a member of the Workers' Compensation Section of the Delaware State Bar Association and the Randy J. Holland Delaware Workers' Compensation American Inn of Court. Mr. Ralston is a past President of his community civic association. He currently resides in North Wilmington. His term expires in December, 2021.